RAYMOND RECORDER

No. 2 Vol. 3 Thursday, April 24, 1952

THE RAYMOND LION

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. McKean served a very tasty supper to the Lions Club on Monday night at the Legion Hall. Too many of the big shots were absent—but the rest of us did very well with the food—and the best we could with what was left for a business meeting.

Lion Paul Moreland presented three Lions with their official certificates and one new member with his pin. He entreated the new Lions to take their membership seriously and to be proud of their affiliation.

Mrs. Ellen Winkler was introduced by the Program Chairman Deb Thompson. She outlined the purpose and organization of a Civil Defence Program for our Community. She has attended a school in Edmonton to teach the Civil Defence Organizers in Alberta. This program is equipped and organized to handle any emergency or disaster that may befall a community.

Renan Pack has been appointed by the Town Council as District Controller. Our local organization has not been affected as yet.

Red Cross Quota Reached

Due to the perseverance of the President of the local Red Cross Branch and the many people who worked so diligently with her, the quota of $1,750. for this district was reached and passed. A total of $7151.50 was collected by the local committee with $162.35 of this being donated by the people in the Stirling area.

The local Red Cross executive wish to express its sincere thanks to those who did the soliciting and those whose contributions made the drive a success. Special thanks go to Mrs. S. Donaldson, Mrs. M. Holland, Mrs. A. Webster, Dick Kinsey, Parley Mel-drum Jr., Ray Attwood and Evan Jensen. Mrs. Frank Hall is the President of the local organization and Mrs. I. Kitchen is the Secretary.

Gratitude Expressed By Hospital Auxiliary

The Raymond Hospital Auxiliary wish to express their deep appreciation to the members of the Buddhist Church and the Stake Mutual Board who so generously gave of their time and talent to present a concert to aid our work in helping the Hospital.

The sum of $183.80 was given to the Auxiliary to further their efforts.

Special thanks go to the following committee members for their help in our behalf: Sam Takeda, Jim Bridge, Jack Nishiyama, Eleanor Hudson, Kinko Hironaka, Janet Heninger, Gus Moriyama and the announcer Dick Kinsey.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith announce the engagement of their daughter Donna Rae to Vernon Garner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Garner, all of Raymond.

The wedding will take place May 28th in the Cardston Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Paxman announce the engagement of their second daughter, Della, to Earl Grigor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grigor of Barnwell.

The marriage will take place June 4th in the Alberta Temple.

Children Enjoying New Surroundings

The children have been in the new Alberta Red Cross hospital about 3 months now and already it's taken on the appearance of hominess and fun of living that characterized the atmosphere of the old building. Some 30 patients have so far augmented the population with the present complement at 71, although figures fluctuate daily.

The difference to the children is that now they have wide corridors in which to ride their tricycles, push their doll buggies and maneuver their little play car. Wide corridors mean floor polishers, too, and the housekeeping staff always have plenty of eager help in pushing the electric polishers along. Indeed, the children take as much interest in the various equipment as the average child does in his mother's vacuum cleaner. Nursing aides pushing mobile laundry baskets down the halls have more helpers than enough with three or four kiddies all enjoying the novelty. All these activities, besides being entertaining, mean good exercise for weakened muscles.

The ambulatory patients find plenty to do as they visit from one ward to another, sit in the corridors to play just like Junior sits in the middle of the kitchen at home and generally enjoys life. There's plenty of excitement for the bed patients, too. All rooms have a fine view and because of the many gifts sent to the children, they have ample opportunity to explore books, cutouts, coloring and games. Of course, the older patients all attend school either in one of the school rooms or in bed.

The staff in the main office usually have company; a patient who wanders in to inspect the typewriters and get acquainted. . . a little fellow who gleefully announces that he's to have his tonsils out. . . a little girl showing off her new crutches.

Better facilities, more sunlight and the pleasant surroundings of the new building assist both the patients and the medical and nursing staffs. Each Friday the out-patient department is more popular with two doctors at a time examining the children. During out-patients', members of the Junior Service League assist the staff and work in the snack bar.

In every way, the new hospital is an achievement and an advancement. Every department finds its work easier; its services to the child patients more effective for their betterment and well-being. Without a doubt, this new 'hospital of hope' is fulfilling its long-felt need.

Friends of Mrs. John Hervey will be sorry to learn that she is a patient in a Lethbridge hospital.

Young Man Interested In Carpentry

A young man with an itchy foot is two-year old John Ackroyd. Even at his tender age he goes visiting and most of the time he comes back, but the other day was an exception. He headed for the Public School where his brother Jimmy usually spends several hours a day, but the activity at the new school attracted his attention so he sauntered over to have a look-see. All this exercise was a little too much for the young fellow so he picked out a suitable pile of lumber and dozed off.

At about four o'clock the workers discovered the youthful Van Winkle and handed him over to the RCMP who happened to be passing by. The Town Constable was there too and he recognized the lad and took him home to a very relieved mother.

PUBLIC NOTICE

It is against the law to park in front of entrances or exits to garages, in front of lanes or near fire hydrants. It is also against the law to park on the travelled portion of the street and there is a twelve hour parking limit in the business section of Town. The public is asked to observe the above.

CLEAN UP

The Council requests all householders and business Audenaert & Still Dray and Gerald Harker and possibly places to clean up all garbage, cans, ashes and tree cuttings now. Others are available to do this work.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

John Weel Wins "Lest We Forget" Treasure Chest

The annual 'Lest We Forget' Concert sponsored by the Temple Hill Cemetery Board was again one of the musical highlights of the year. Artists from Mountain View, Lethbridge, Milk River, Magrath and Raymond combined talents to serve up a very tasty fare that was enjoyed by a near capacity crowd at the Opera House.

George Brown, as the very capable Master of the Program, opened the entertainment by introducing Lucille Wilde of Mountain View who sang 'A Heart That's Free' and 'Lamour Toujours' accompanied at the piano by Florence Wilde. Joe McLean's popular renditions of 'Sergeant Major on Parade' and 'Without A Song' were accompanied at the piano by Emma Dahl, who played for all the local performers.

Earl LePage, the popular young pianist who has a well-loved program 'Especially For You' on radio station CJOC played 'Stardust' and 'Moon Love' and Mas Terakita sang 'You Belong To My Heart' and 'Lavender Blue'. Jeanine Jensen's two selections 'The Moon Complaining' and 'My Curly Headed Baby' were followed by two trumpet solos 'Charmaine' and 'I'd Love To Live In Dreamland' by Don Cody, from Milk River, who was accompanied by Earl LePage.

L. B. Tanner from Magrath had his sister, Vinessa Hamilton, play the piano to him while he sang 'Stars Are The Windows of Heaven' and 'Out of the Dusk To You' and Mr. Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Katherine Brown, ended the first portion of the program with very impressive renditions of 'Old Man River' and 'Everytime I Feel The Spirit'.

As Mr. Brown announced the intermission and the drawing for the Treasure Chest, it wouldn't have been too hard to guess who was anxious to get one of those delicious angel-food cakes that were on sale at the back of the hall. It didn't take a certain printer long to get to the table—and he alone for all the others were polite—they waited till after the show was over. His only excuse, when interviewed

On March 28th Miss Gwen Hawkins, formerly of Raymond, exchanged marriage vows with Donald H. McVeigh with President J. S. Brown performing the ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brewerton in Vancouver. A Reception was held in the Sylvia Hotel immediately following the ceremony.

Poly Hawkins motored to Vancouver for the wedding.

later was that he remembered being left holding an empty bag last time.

Two young fellows who did a wonderful job of selling tickets for the show were called to the stage to make the draw for the Treasure Chest, which was a lovely cedar chest filled with merchandise and gift certificates donated by the local businessmen. The happy lot of selecting the lucky ticket went to the youngest of the boys and Spencer pulled out the ticket of John G. Weel, who went happily to the stage to take possession and show the audience the contents of the chest. As Mr. Brown read the names of the donors it sounded as though he were reading a complete list of the businesses in town.

Mrs. M. R. Woolf, who was one of the guiding lights behind the affair, expressed the Board's appreciation to all those who helped make the show such a success in the entertainment field. In the financial department the report was not so good, the receipts were almost two hundred dollars down from last year's.

The second half of the program got under way with Lucille Wilde's rendition of 'Cherry Ripe', followed by Joe McLean's 'Mother Machree'. Mas Terakita sang 'Please Mr. Sun' and Earl LePage played a medley of 'When You and I Were Young' 'When You Were Sweet Sixteen' and 'When Your Hair Has Turned to Silver'. Jeanine Jensen carried that theme a little farther when she sang 'The Last Mile Home'.

Don Cody and Earl LePage teamed up again to the tune of 'Ramona' and L. B. Tanner paid a musical tribute to 'Thora'. The concluding numbers on the program were 'Lucky Old Sun' and 'The Lord's Prayer' beautifully sung by George Brown.

And it didn't take long for all the angel food cakes to be sold.

(P.S. The cake came on a big white plate that we would be happy to return it to its owner if we knew who she was—it must be a 'she' because the cake was too good to have been made by a mere male.)

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Donny Nilsson and family wish to express their heart felt thanks to their many friends who have been so helpful since the loss of their home and belongings by fire.

To thank each individually would be impossible but each contribution, no matter what, has been deeply appreciated.

More Men Needed Says Recruiting Officer

There is a continuing need for a steady flow of good recruits to maintain expanded corps and units of the Canadian Army, both at home and overseas" Capt Roy Jardine, Western Command Recruiting Officer, said on a periodic visit to Raymond this week.

Capt. Jardine said the general response to special recruiting drives, especially in the rural areas of Alberta, had been excellent. However he pointed out that the army now has more than 45,000 active force soldiers and that a large monthly intake was necessary to maintain this level and provide for rotation of troops abroad.

During the spring of this year the Army will be bringing home several thousand troops who have served one year in Korea. Similar rotation for troops now in Europe will take place next fall. To provide replacements for these men and ensure that no soldier is separated from his family for more than one year overseas the Army is seeking a regular flow of young men interested in a military career with the chance to serve in Europe or the Far East.

Vacancies exist in most all corps and trades of the Army. The greatest current need is for men in the Infantry where they may join such famous Alberta Units as the P. P. C. L. I. or Loyal Edmonton Regiment. Applicants should enquire at the local Army Information Centre, Delbert Thompson, for complete details.

Care Should Be Taken With Firearms

The Editor,
Raymond Recorder,
Dear Sir:

I would respectfully like to draw to the attention of citizens the danger that is becoming a potential threat to the lives of boys and their playmates using small calibre rifles and even air guns.

Unless parents of boys using these small weapons take a firmer stand against the use of them, sooner or later someone is going to be injured and perhaps fatal.

Not that I am against youngsters having their fun from this form of sport, but I do think that if boys are permitted to use uns they should be a least taught how to carry them, and how to handle a gun, especially when mechanical trouble arises. Remember, folks, it's the empty gun that does the damage. Do you want your boy or girl to be shot? Think it over!

The danger is not confined to boys using these small guns either. What about playmates? Aren't they just as vulnerable?

Inspired by bravado of some desperado, boys may go into action against another boy friend in a "Stick Up".

Less than a week ago I cautioned two youngsters using air rifles shooting birds. "You boys wouldn't dare shoot a beautiful robin would you?" I asked. All I got was a cynical grin from both. The next day I found a dead robin which had been shot by a boy with an air rifle.

Since all my sons are fond of hunting and using guns, I tried to teach them in their youth how to carry a gun and how to use it. If parents are agreeable to youngsters using guns, then I think it is their responsibility to teach them at least the elementary rules and at the same time caution them against shooting the lovely migratory birds, and to forbid their shooting nesting ducks on nearby lakes and sloughs.

Following the discussion period a lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Keeler.

Fire Destroys Donny Nilsson Home

The afternoon of April 22nd will be long remembered in a sad way by the Donny Nilsson family, for that was the time when they lost their home and belongings in a fire that destroyed completely an estimated $20,000 worth of their possessions.

Just after six o'clock Mr. Nilsson and Russel had their supper and left to finish a bit of fencing. Mrs. Nilsson took Dianne down the road to D. A. Bennett's farm on her way in to town and left Merna home alone. The oil cook stove got out of control and Merna rode to Bennetts on a bike to get help and turn in the alarm. By the time Dianne got back and Donny had raced across the field, the house was doomed. The local Fire Brigade turned out to the call, but arrived at the home, which was about five miles north-east of town, too late to save anything. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

The Nilsson family moved over to the Fraser farm where they spent a few days while they were making arrangements to move housing accommodations on to their farm.

It's Your Money
 Quite a fuss has been made over the more or less regular annual transfers of public funds from provincial to municipal authorities. Mayors and aldermen have been profuse in their thanks. There has been much talk of gifts, generosity, and so on. In some cases the provincial government people seem to have confused themselves with Santa Clause.

The only Santa Clause in this, or any other case where public funds are involved, declares The Financial Post is the taxpayer. He is the only contributor.

No matter what terms we use, these transactions between provincial and municipal governments are merely transfers of money supplied by the taxpayer. And certainly to some of this the municipal authorities have as much right as the provincial.

The gasoline tax is an example. Everybody who owns a car or truck contributes and contributes handsomely. Some of these vehicles never run a mile outside their own municipality and with at least three quarters of them the great bulk of their travelling is within the local limits on local streets built and maintained by the local authorities.

Yet the provincial authorities collect all the gas tax. It is only fair that this revenue be shared but let's do it without all this nonsense about gifts and generosity. It is the taxpayers' money that is being handed around.

Canadian Garden Service
 By Gordon Lindsay Smith

Flowers Among Vegetables

Few vegetables look well among the flowers, but there are a lot of flowers that not only decorate a vegetable garden but are best grown there.

Gladiolus, sweet peas and others that are used or cutting or bouquets can be grown most easily and in quantity among the vegetables. Plants with really wonderful blooms but plain foliage should go there. A more pleasing picture will result where these flowers are grown along the edge of the vegetable plot or just in front. If they are very big they can go along the back fence. Usually a prize vegetable garden attracts visitors just as much as the flower plots so if we want to make it really dressy we can select from the seed catalogue some of the taller and bushier annual flowers and use these as hedges between the main division of vegetables.

A great many experienced gardeners now grow practically all their gladiolus in rows in the vegetable garden. Then, they are more easily cultivated and dusted, and in most parts of Canada it is very necessary to dust or to ward off thrip.

Humus

One doesn't read much about gardening or listen to many talks before one is advised to use 'well rotted manure'. It sounds fine, but the trick for the city and suburban gardener is to get such a thing. Manure well rotted or otherwise is scarce. Undoubtedly it is the finest sort of fertilizer, but we have a very good substitute in humus. This is simply the refined and garden name we give to well rotted vegetable matter such as leaves, grass clippings, weeds and even clean garbage, like orange rinds, potato peelings, carrot tops, corn husks, etc. The experienced gardener never throws these in the garbage pail or incinerator. He piles these in a heap at the back of the garden behind some shrubbery, over each new layer he spreads some fine soil. Once in a while he will fork the pile over to mix thoroughly and he will wet thoroughly. The vegetable matter soon ferments and rots and the whole mixture becomes fine rich loam which is a wonderful material to dig into any type of soil and especially heavy clay or light sand. If there is no place for a humus pile one can simply bury all this refuse directly in the garden. The old gardener will not throw anything away that will rot.

Cultivation

Destroying weeds is only one of the reasons for cultivation. The big gain is the improvement in the texture of the soil. Cultivation lets in air, breaks up the clay lumps, makes the soil more open, or as the experts say, more friable. Porus, loose soil will absorb and hold more moisture and will dry out much more slowly in dry weather.

Chemical Fertilizers

With manure scarce, gardeners have turned more and more to chemical fertilizers. These are clean, easy to use and powerful. They are made up of three main elements, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, with the proportions of each expressed in formulae of three figures thus 4-5-1. The first of these boosts the green growth above the ground and is especially valuable for lawns, lettuce, cabbage and other leafy vegetables. The phosphoric acid encourages the growth of starch and sugar, flowers and seeds. Potash balances the other two and helps maturity. When vegetables are stunted or misshapen it is usually a sure sign that the soil is deficient in potash. Commercial fertilizers should be used carefully according to directions and worked into the soil close to but not actually touching the plants or roots.

Cancer Signs
 These are the six danger signals which warn that cancer may be present:
 1. Any lump, especially in the breast
 2. Any sore that does not heal readily.
 3. Any irregular bleeding or discharge.
 4. Any pigmented wart or mole that shows a change in size or color, or is subject to chronic irritation.
 5. Vague symptoms of indigestion in persons over 35, especially if there is slight anaemia and loss of weight.
 6. Any source of irritation, especially in the mouth.

Doctor: "Has your husband taken the medicine I prescribed? A tablet before each meal and a small whiskey after?"
 Weavin' Willie's wife: "He's a few tablets behind but he's months ahead on the whiskey."

CANCER
 can be cured!

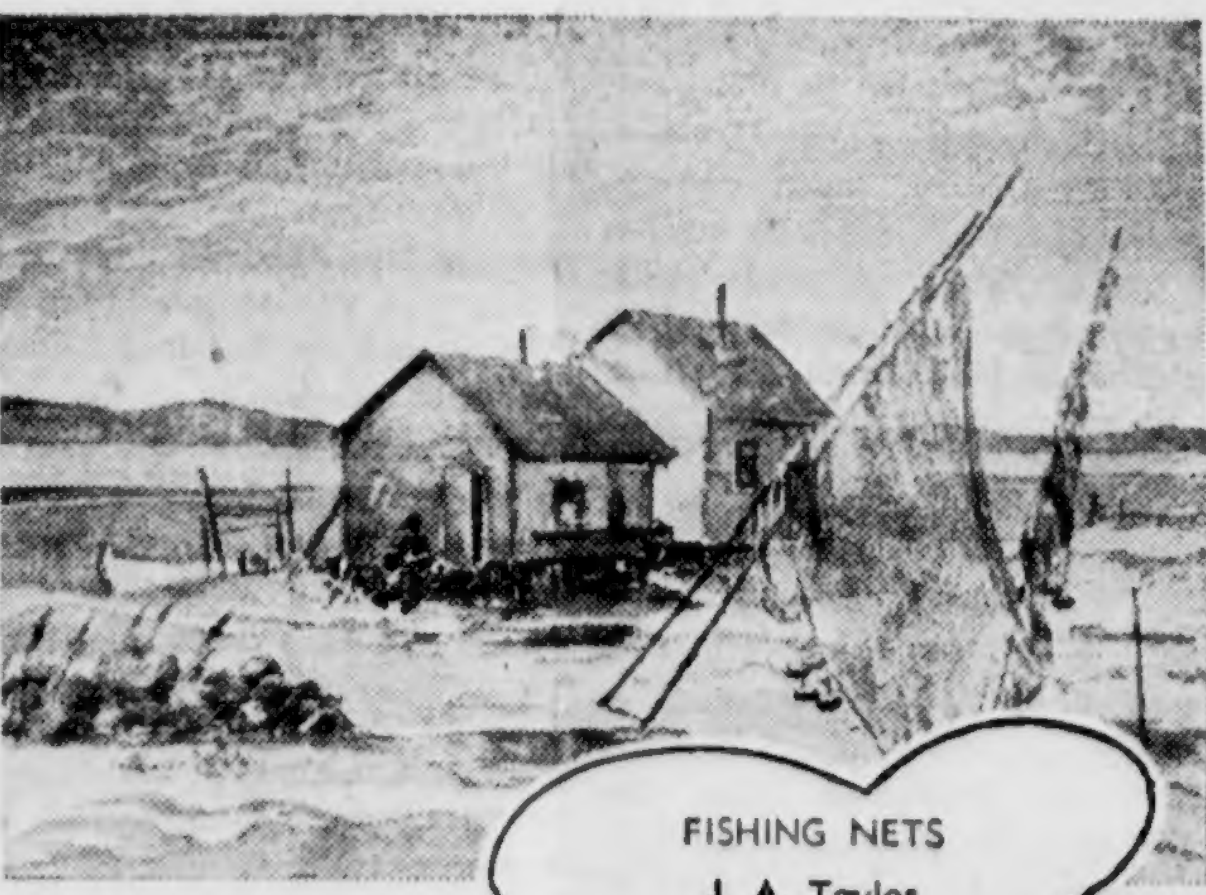

It's possible. It's probable. The big question is... In how many cases? Right now, with present medical knowledge, the number of cancer cures could be doubled.

But we need your dollars... to spread information, to make more detection programs available, to assist doctors, and to add laboratory workers in the great fight to find more cures for cancer.

We ask your help! There's no time like the present — there's no time to lose. Now is the time to GIVE TO THE CANCER CRUSADE. Give generously when your local canvasser calls or mail in your contribution.

Mr. and Mrs. John McPhee were hosts to their Study Class Sunday evening for a general discussion.
 Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Genier Nielson.
 Mrs. MacPhee served a very tasty lunch.

There is no such thing as "tough meat", according to a Home Economist, I cooked correctly. Do you know what cuts of meat to ask your butcher for? Do you know how to cook them when you get them? Remember the cheaper cuts are as nutritious as the more expensive.

If you want a roast to be roasted by dry heat, ask for the following:
 BEEF: Standard rib roast (several ribs), rolled rib roast, sirloin tip roast, rump (from high-quality meat) chuck (from high-quality meat).

PORK: Loin roast, fresh ham, pork shoulder (cushion style), picnic roasts Canadian bacon, ham.

If you want meat to broil, to be cooked by dry heat, ask for:

BEEF: Sirloin steak, porterhouse steak, tenderloin steak, club steak, rib steak, ground beef patties or steaks, cube steaks, (pan-broiled only) top round steak (from high quality meat).

PORK: Broiling pork is not recommended as it requires far more thorough cooking for safety and best flavor.

If you want meat to Stew—to be cooked by moist heat:

BEEF: Shank, flank, neck, brisket plate.

PORK: Spareribs, hock, pigs feet.

If you want meat for Braising—to be cooked by moist heat:

BEEF: Rump roast, chuck roast, round steak, oxtails, neck, short ribs, flank steak.

PORK: Spareribs, backbone, fresh ham steaks (centre cut), chops, ham slices, tenderloin.

If you want meat to Go A Long Way—for meat loaves, steak patties, stews, meat balls and the like:

BEEF: Ground round steak, ground chuck, stew meat cut in cubes, brisket.

PORK: Sausage, ground shoulder frankfurters, ground pork for patties.

Trees Are Doomed?

At the present rate of destruction a great deal of Canada, even in those sections where trees grow quickly, easily and naturally, will soon be stripped bare of trees. There will be nothing to break the monotony of rows of buildings, telephone or power poles.

In Europe there are severe laws about cutting trees. In some cases two new trees must be planted for every one removed. In these older and much more thickly populated countries there are far more trees in the cities and along the highways than in Canada and in farm country the wood lots are more numerous and larger.

By cooking vegetables with the minimum of water, in the shortest possible time, their most valuable vitamins and minerals are saved. Too much water and too long cooking and a lot less cutting if we hope to retain a proper balance.
